The Multicultural Share Fair has been made possible through the organizing and planning efforts of Northwest Housing Alternatives.

Multicultural Share Fair begins at gate opening until 7:00 pm each night.

Food vendors

Building community is the core value of the East Portland Exposition and the food offered is no exception. Below are three examples of food vendors who are helping to make our community a better place. Be sure to check the event Internet site for more information about food vendors and food options at the event.

Micro-Mercantes

Micro-Mercantes is a cooperative of Latina women sponsored by Hacienda CDC. The Micro-Mercantes participants sell tamales and other Latin American cuisine to help them afford rent, utilities, education, healthcare, and other basic costs.

To learn more about this incredible program and to order tamales before or after the East Portland Exposition, please go to www.micromercantes.com

Food choices include: Traditional home style tamales and aguas frescas — traditional Mexican drinks made with fresh fruits and spices.

American Legion Post #1

Since 1919, American Legion Post #1 has been welcoming veterans from all branches of the Armed Forces.

The Post raises money and conducts activities in support of veterans and community programs and projects to numerous to mention. 100% of the monies raised are given back to the community.

For more information on American Legion Post #1 go to www.post1portland.org.

Food choices include: Hot dogs, hamburgers, chips, pop, and bottled water.

Powellhurst-Gilbert Neighborhood Association

The Powellhurst-Gilbert Neighborhood Association (PGNA) is the creator, host, and primary planner for the East Portland Exposition. PGNA has numerous outreach and public safety projects and programs to its credit and was acknowledged for its contribution to the community by being awarded the 2009 Spirit of Portland award for Neighborhood of the Year.

For more information on PGNA, go to www.PGPride.org.

Food choices include: Watermelon slices (direct from Hermiston), cotton candy, sno-cones, pop, bottled water, frozen mocha frappe, and Italian sodas.
